Beatriz Colomina Privacy And Publicity

Summary. Through a series of close readings of two major figures of the modern movement, Adolf Loos and Le Corbusier, Beatriz Colomina argues that architecture only becomes modern in its engagement with the mass media, and that in so doing it radically displaces the traditional sense of space and subjectivity.

Privacy and Publicity | The MIT Press

In her multifaceted, highly logocentric, often profoundly insightful book Beatriz Colomina demonstrates that 'publicity', 'reproduction', and the 'archive' are no mere erudite metaphors, but the actual stuff from and around which modern architecture and its discourse are made. As with the subject matter of modern art,...
